DISCOVER NATURAL, FAST-ACTING AND LONG-LASTING PAIN RELIEF

Pain is an unwelcome companion for many of us, and finding effective relief can sometimes feel like an endless quest. If you've been searching for a natural solution to ease your discomfort, you'll be intrigued to learn about Hinkle Hemp's CBD Infused Relief Balm. This remarkable topical product combines the goodness of CBD-infused coconut oil, beeswax, and cayenne pepper to create a potent remedy that alleviate pain through a variety of mechanisms.

CBD (Cannabidiol)

At the heart of Hinkle Hemp's Relief Balm is CBD, a non-psychoactive compound derived from the cannabis plant. Unlike THC, CBD won't get you high, but it can work wonders for your pain management.

CBD has a unique relationship with the body's endocannabinoid system, which plays a pivotal role in regulating pain perception. By interacting with this system, CBD can help modulate pain signaling pathways, reducing discomfort.

CBD is also known for its anti-inflammatory properties. Inflammation often accompanies pain, and CBD's ability to reduce it may lead to significant relief for those suffering from various types of pain.

Coconut Oil

Coconut oil enhances CBD absorption due to its skin-friendly properties. It also contains medium-chain triglycerides (MCTs) with anti-inflammatory benefits. This adds an extra layer of relief to the formula.

Beeswax

Beeswax acts as a natural thickener and protective barrier on the skin, offering additional relief for skin conditions causing discomfort.

Cayenne Pepper

Surprisingly, cayenne pepper plays a role in this extraordinary balm. Cayenne pepper's capsaicin desensitizes nerve receptors. When applied topically, capsaicin desensitizes nerve receptors responsible for transmitting pain signals, providing a warming or numbing sensation that can alleviate pain, especially in cases of muscle and joint discomfort.

Conclusion

When all these ingredients come together in Hinkle Hemp's CBD Infused Relief Balm, they work synergistically to target pain and inflammation in localized areas. With Hinkle Hemp's Relief Balm, you can explore the potential of natural pain relief and take a step towards a more comfortable, pain-free life. Try it for yourself and discover the soothing benefits of these incredible ingredients. Available in both Regular and Extra Strength.

Oral CBD Prevented COVID Infection in Real-World Patients

While not a substitute for vaccines, “CBD has the potential to prevent infections, such as breakthrough infections,” the study’s lead author said.

“Cannabidiol—the non-psychoactive cannabis compound better known as CBD—is a potent blocker of SARS-CoV-2 replication in human cells, new research shows. Not only that, but a survey of real-world patients taking prescribed CBD found a “significant” negative relationship between CBD consumption and COVID-19 infection. “

Here, we report that cannabidiol (CBD) inhibits infection of SARS-CoV-2 in cells and mice. CBD and its metabolite 7-OH-CBD, but not THC or other congener cannabinoids tested, potentially block SARS-CoV-2 replication in lung epithelial cells.

“As a bottom line, what this says is that CBD has the potential to prevent infections, such as breakthrough infections, which might be one of the most useful applications,” Rosner told Motherboard.
